

UCSB MULTICULTURAL CENTER PRESENTS
Diversity Lecture

BLACK CAMPUS LIFE

PROFESSOR TICHAVAKUNDA

Antar A. Tichavakunda is Assistant Professor of Education at the University of California, Santa Barbara. Born and raised in Washington, DC, Tichavakunda is a product of DC Public Schools. His first book, Black Campus Life: The Worlds Black Students Make at a Historically White Institution, is published with SUNY Press. He employs Black intellectual thought and sociological theories to better understand and support marginalized communities in higher education. In this lecture, Tichavakunda will draw from his book to highlight the dynamism, tensions, and joys of Black student life at historically white institutions of higher education. Co-sponsored by Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs.

TUESDAY, FEB 6TH
5-6:30PM
LECTURE - MCC THEATER

For more information or assistance in accommodating people of varying abilities contact the MultiCultural
Center at 805.893.8411

REGISTER ON SHORELINE:
<https://cmlink.me/2dD/r2258565>

