

Cup of Culture

INHABITANTS

Indigenous Perspectives on Restoring Our World

Wednesday,
November 1st,
6-7:30PM
MCC Theater

This film follows five Native American communities as they restore their traditional land management practices in the face of a changing climate. The five stories include traditions of Hopi dryland farming in Arizona; restoring buffalo to the Blackfeet reservation in Montana; sustainable forestry on the Menominee reservation in Wisconsin; native food forests in Hawaii; and prescribed fire by the Karuk Tribe of California. Presented with closed captioning. Co-sponsored by AIIISA, American Indian Graduate Student Alliance.

REGISTER ON SHORELINE:
<https://cglink.me/2dD/r2223454>

For more information or assistance in accommodating people of varying abilities contact the MultiCultural Center at 805.893.8411

@UCSBMCC

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

CUP OF CULTURE

Take a study break or bring your books and enjoy a cup of coffee or tea and light refreshments.

COFFEE HOUSE, WEDNESDAYS, 5:30-6 PM, MCC LOBBY
FILM SCREENING, WEDNESDAYS, 6 PM, MCC THEATER