

COMING HOME TO OURSELVES AND EACH OTHER:

Honoring our Transgender, Nonbinary, Queer, and Crip BIPOC Ancestors Past, Present, and Future Shayda Kafai and Dr. Pau Abustan

Shayda Kafai and Dr. Pau Abustan will share how they found home in themselves and their transgender, nonbinary, queer, and crip BIPOC communities past, present, and future. They will discuss how they co-create disability justice worlds where all can expand into their authentic selves. ASL interpretation will be provided, and CART enabled for Zoom attendees. Co-sponsored by the Commission on Disability Equity, RCSGD, DSP.

Shayda Kafai (she/her) is an Assistant Professor of Gender & Women's Studies at Cal State Polytechnic in Pomona, CA. As a queer, disabled, MAD Iranian femme, she commits to practicing the many ways we can reclaim our bodyminds from systems of oppression.

Dr. Pau Abustan (they/siya) is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies at Cal State Los Angeles. They are a queer crip Pilipinx scholar-activist-educator, centering queer, critical race, feminist, disability justice.

Thursday May 25th, 2023, 6-8PM
Hybrid Event, MCC Lounge and Zoom
<https://ucsb.zoom.us/j/88621220139>

REGISTER ON SHORELINE:
[HTTPS://CGLINK.ME/
2DD/R2088313](https://cglink.me/2DD/R2088313)

For more information or assistance in accommodating people of varying abilities contact the MultiCultural Center at 805.893.8411

@UCSBMCC    