

UCSB MULTICULTURAL
CENTER PRESENTS

RACE AND RELIGION:

It's been two decades since the 9/11 attacks and the onset of the War on Terror. Addressing its catastrophic impact, Dr. Maha Hilal will share her insights on the last twenty years of the War on Terror including the narrative in justifying state violence rooted in Islamophobia and how vast the War on Terror's apparatus has become. Centering the War on Terror's impact on Muslims and Muslim Americans, Dr. Hilal will also shed light on how some have internalized oppression, perpetuated collective responsibility, and how the lived experiences of Muslim Americans reflect what it means to live as part of a "suspect" community.

Dr. Maha Hilal is cofounder of Justice for Muslims Collective and holds a PhD in Justice, Law, and Society from American University. She has received many awards, including the Department of State's Critical Language Scholarship, the Kathryn Davis Fellowship for Peace, and a Reebok Human Rights Fellowship.
