RESILIENT LOVE

Radical Self Love as Transformative Activism

Sonya Renee Taylor is the Founder and Radical Executive Officer of The Body is Not An Apology, a digital media and education company. She is a former poetry slam champion, author, educator and activist, and her work as a transformational leader continues to have global reach. She was named one of Planned Parenthood's 99 Dream Keepers in 2015 as well as a Planned Parenthood Generation Action's 2015 Outstanding Partner awardee. She was named one of the 12 Women Who Paved the Way for Body Positivity by Bustle Magazine and, in September 2015, she was honored as a YBCA 100, an annual compilation of creative minds, makers, and pioneers who are asking the questions and making the provocations that will shape the future of American culture. Co-sponsored by the A.S. Black Women's Health Collaborative.
