Out Run

Out Run tells the inspiring story of the world's only LGBT political party as they fight for visibility and equality in a country dominated by conservative values. Amidst this struggle, the film shines a spotlight on the vibrant and resilient trans community, which challenges societal norms and redefines what it means to be Filipino. Through their courage and perseverance, Out Run captures a pivotal historical moment when identity, politics, and the fight for human rights intersect. This documentary is not just about winning elections — it's about winning hearts and minds to pursue a more inclusive future. (1 hr 15 min)
